KILN SCHOOL TO OPEN

Monday, August 8—Prof. S. J. Ingram to Deliver Opening Address—Public Invited.

Kiln Consolidated school will open for the 1932-33 session Monday morning, August 8, when Prof. S. J. Ingram, city superintendent of Bay St. Louis, schools will deliver the opening address.

A. S. McQueen, county superintendent of education, will also be among the prominent invited guests and will deliver a talk to patrons and pupils.

Prof. E. E. Lumpkin, superintendent of Kiln School will preside and be master of ceremonies. Having been re-elected, he is well posted on the needs of the school and community and what is best for the school.

The public is invited to these interesting exercises and the hope is expressed by the school management that there will be many friends in attendance.

Following is the personnel of the faculty for the new session:

Prof. E. E. Lumpkin, Supt.
J. A. Farmer, Prin. and Coach.
Mrs. S. H. Anderson, English.
Mrs. E. E. Lumpkin, Home Economics and Science.

Miss Nina Beavers, (Wesson) Mathematics.

Miss Sarah Egglistor, (Carrollton) Music.

Dr. C. M. Shipp County Health Officer, will examine pre-school and school children Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week at Kiln School.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETING

Various Sundry and Routine Matters—Conditions Remedied—Shipment of Flour

Regular monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce association was held at headquarters in Masonic Temple Wednesday night with a fair attendance. Report on the advanced progress and near completion of the Old Spanish Trail was made and much satisfaction expressed at the results of the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce in this direction.

It was also reported that in consequence of the initial step taken by the Chamber of Commerce calling attention to the Pass Christian Chamber of Commerce, that four "Dangers" signs had been placed at the deep dredge hole in swimming place near the beach edge at Henderson Point, and where six lives already were lost.

The matter of detouring the temporary trail all the way Main street up to the head of beach rather than turning in at Second street as at present, was reported by the chair; that the matter had been taken up with Commissioner Thames and that he had given his consent, engineers in charge to concur.

Following a thorough discussion it was voted as not deemed advisable just at this time for the Chamber of Commerce, as requested, to announce and sponsor the annual outdoor motor races, for various reasons. While the organization was willing to do the work the business public would be called upon for funds and at this time it was not thought best to further burden the merchants that, with a few exceptions, are always putting out.

It was announced that the local Red Cross Chapter would soon receive another carload of flour for free distribution, with Chamber of Commerce as headquarters for distribution. C. C. McDonald has again offered to unload and give the shipment five warehouse and protection. Mr. Roe of the Red Cross said he expected the shipment early.

Acknowledgement was also made of the success of Mayor Traub and Commissioners Egloff and Ladner's success in getting the D. & N. to consent and inaugurating the popular Wednesday excursion.

The secretary also reported that the request for the high growth of the pine plant, woods below Cedar

REPRESENTATIVE FROM STATE TAX DEPARTMENT VISITS BAY ST. LOUIS

J. R. Lewis Spending Week Making Survey—Field Men Will Follow Later.

The Sea Coast Echo had a pleasant call from J. R. Lewis representing the State Tax Commission. Mr. Lewis made it clear that on this trip he is simply making a quick survey of the territory for a subsequent detailed study of the situation and a check up of business operations. He is not now making anything in the nature of a field audit such as will be undertaken later. Mr. Lewis is visiting county and city officials, tobacco and cigarette dealers and establishing contacts with public accountants and auditors.

The State Tax Commission has put several men in the field and this preliminary canvas will be rapidly pushed to completion. It will be quickly followed by the most complete survey of mercantile and general business operations ever undertaken in Mississippi. Mr. Lewis said that the new chairman, A. H. Stone, had laid down a policy of tax service to taxpayers and that everybody connected with the Tax Commission was thoroughly sold on this idea. He said that the Commission was receiving fine cooperation, throughout the State, in connection with the Sales Tax. Mr. Lewis said that Mr. Stone and his associates were operating the entire affairs of the Tax Commission on a basis of efficiency, integrity and helpfulness and that they were meeting with a splendid response from taxpayers and the public generally.

L. & N. Wednesday Excursion, First of Season, Carried Many

Wednesday's L. & N. excursion this week, the first since the war, came out on schedule time from New Orleans to the Gulf Coast and carried over four hundred passengers, and it was said from headquarters that this number would easily reach the five hundred mark next Wednesday.

This excursion, so popular for many years before 1918 period, was popular with Orleanians wishing to visit the Gulf Coast during the week-day. Recently the Bay St. Louis Board of City Commissioners inaugurated the move to have the train resumed and with other coast points co-operating the L. & N. agreed to give it a trial. It is stated the train is assured for the full month of August, at least.

"I am well pleased with the success of the Wednesday excursion," said Mayor Traub, and I feel it will now become a permanent season feature each year. I saw its arrival and the many passengers, quite a number disembarking in Bay St. Louis."

Popular Resident Celebrates Seventy-Third Natal Anniversary

Mrs. A. Schilling, residing at 1114 Dunbar avenue, was agreeably surprised on Wednesday of this week, August 3, which marked her 73rd natal anniversary, to receive a surprise visit from her children and friends who reside in New Orleans and came out for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Schilling, former residents of Waveland some years since, and who returned to the Gulf Coast, and now reside in Bay St. Louis at their own and hospitable home, are boosters for this section and prove their ardent fondness for this section by making it their home.

Included in the party were: Mr. and Mrs. Geo. J. Schilling, Mrs. Rosie Reed, Mr. Mc C. and Mrs. Wm. Stever, Mr. Adam Fuchs, Miss Margaret Stieb and Miss Sussie Jamm and Lawrence Fischer, Jr. who will stay until September.

Charge With Lack Of License Plate On Auto-Semi-Trailer

Ted Laroussini, son of George Laroussini, well-known summer resident of Waveland, was charged with operating a semi-trailer to his automobile without extra license plate for this week and was fined but released on a $500.00 appeal bond to the circuit court which bond was made up quickly and voluntarily by residents of Waveland.

The arrest was made by John Fox, deputy sheriff, who it is stated had never caught.

Point, along the beach, he had been met by the Board of Supervisors and President Emilio Cio stated a gain of prisoners would be put to work at once. The plants over the beach on both parallel sides and the tendency is to damage the outer surface of automobile.

H. K. ROUSE BUYS BILBO'S HOUSE OF THOUSAND DREAMS

Chancery Clerk of Pearl River County Bids In "Dream House" of Former Governor

At Poplarville Former Governor Theo. G. Bilbo's famous "dream house" passed from his hands Monday when the mansion was placed on the auction block and sold to satisfy a $500 judgement and court costs.

Mississippi's former chief executive witnessed the sale from the steps of the Pearl River county courthouse, which was conducted by a deputy U. S. Marshall, acting under a federal court order issued by Judge Edwin R. Holmes.

Along with the $50,000 "dream house" went Bilbo's 3,000-acre estate and 400 acre pecan orchard.

H. K. Rouse, Pearl River chancery clerk, was the successful bidder, gaining title to the estate subject to satisfying the $500 judgement and court costs, estimated around $400 and deeds of trust existing prior to the date of judgment.

Rouse, who dwells at Poplarville, said he purchased the Bilbo estate as a private citizen. He said he had no intention of living in the "dream house" and stated he had no immediate plans for disposing of it.

The sale was ordered by Judge Holmes to satisfy judgment obtained last winter in the federal district court at Biloxi in favor of the receiver for the defunct Planters National Bank at Clarksdale.

The former governor arrived long before time set for the sale and sat quietly throughout the procedure. He did not enter a bid for the property, Rouse's offer being the only one made.

Immediately after the sale was completed, Bilbo set out for Jackson, asserting he "had to get back to his law office."

WAVELAND CHURCH FESTIVAL

Summer Open Air Fair For St. Claire Church Marks Zenith of Summer Season.

Edward C. Carrere, general chairman of fair and festival benefit St. Claire Church, Waveland, in an interview announces that success is going to crown the efforts of the management and public co-operating concerning the fair and festival to be given on Saturday and Sunday of this week, August 6-7.

There is a spirit of doing and a zest that assures the realization of great expectations, he said. It will be quite a novelty and a somewhat radical change from tradition or habit of holding the fair in the heart of the business center of Waveland rather than in front of the church and adjoining lawn space. This affords more room and better parking space.

The town of Waveland has given the use of the old public school building and devotes who worship at the shrine of Terpsichore will have the opportunity of paying tribute to the goddess of the dance.

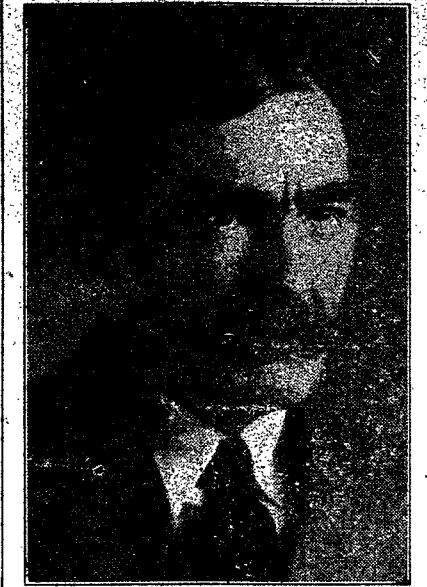

The public and particularly the young people have long tired of the old form of church benefit entertainment so in this instance they will be given the opportunity of the innocent and delightful pastime of dancing, and what does it matter to these who dance if the weather might not be as propitious for dancing during August as in January.

Father Costello, pastor, too, expresses satisfaction at the outlook for success and will find an augmented treasury is going to be quite the thing to pay-off accumulated obligations of the church.

Benefit Card Party To Be Given August 25 For Local Hospital

A benefit card party will be given at the local Bay-Waveland Yacht club building on the evening of Thursday, August 25, benefit for a special fund of the Bay St. Louis King's Daughters Hospital. This will be the last Thursday of the month and ample time and notice is given the hospital. The result will take care of an aggregate amount of annual expenses on the building and about the premises.

COMMISSIONER OPENS CITY CAMPAIGN FOR PRIMARY ELECTIONS

FERDINAND H. EGLOFF, Commissioner, whose formal announcement for re-election appears in this issue of The Sea Coast Echo. He has broken the ice, so to speak, and is seeking re-election on his efficiency and record.

ANNOUNCES FOR CITY OFFICE

Commissioner Ferdinand H. Egloff Offers For Re-Election—Has Long and Fine Record.

Ferdinand H. Egloff, city commissioner, and in charge of the assessing and tax-collecting department, offers himself for re-election by formal announcement in this issue of The Sea Coast Echo.

Mr. Egloff is so well and long known that it is superfluous to introduce him to the public and the voters in general. We know of no man who has city office serving longer and with more satisfaction than he. Particularly well versed in the many and intricate duties of his office, and rich in experience, Mr. Egloff is peculiarly fitted for the discharge of the duties of his office. He knows every inch of ground and improved reality within the city limits conversant with values and practically personally knows every property owner.

It has ever been his policy to give the city his full time and the best service he knows how, not only efficient but courteous to all. Nothing is of too much trouble; he is ever willing and ready to serve and his fund of information is ever at the disposal of the tax-payers and voters without ordeal or ceremony.

Mr. Egloff is personally popular. He is genuinely cordial, without attempt to ingratiate himself for political purpose. He is ever conscious that he represents the people, he is their public servant; that they have the right to call on him at any and all times and that his services belong to one and all alike. People in all walks of life like him. He is a man thoroughly genuine, without ostentation, the same with the public all the time.

A man of the people, one who has served the public all his life who knows how, and successful in his line of public business, it appears that nothing but a logical conclusion that he will be returned to his office by an overwhelming vote in the coming primary election.

It has been said that a successful man serving the public is the one to re-elect. (That tax-payers cannot afford to experiment with men untried. The fact that a man wishes to run for office does not necessarily qualify him.

The candidacy of Ferdinand H. Egloff will receive the earnest and careful consideration of the voters and public in general.

Will Represent His State at Washington In National K. C. Meet

A. G. Farre, State deputy grand knight for Mississippi, Knights of Columbus, will leave Bay St. Louis to be in Washington, D. C. August 12 where he will attend the annual convention Knights of Columbus, on which occasion the fiftieth anniversary of the order will be celebrated.

Grand Knight Farre will be accompanied by Walter J. Cox, Jr., who will accompany him on the motor trip, the itinerary including New York and other outstanding intermediate points both going and coming. The convention headquarters in Washington will be at the Mayfair Hotel.

TAXES BRING IN OVER HALF MILLION FROM SALES TAX

Special Levies Amount To $515,915 During July, Tax Commission Report Shows.

Special tax levies poured $515,915.07 into Mississippi's treasury during July, a check by the State Tax Commission Monday disclosed.

Heading the list of revenue producers was the franchise tax, which yielded a total of $237,567.83 during the month. Closely following franchise tax returns was the general sales and gross income tax, which produced $183,825.25, or 32.35 percent of the aggregate yield during the month.

Tax officials pointed out that returns from the sales tax exceeded Legislative estimates by nearly $20,000 and June returns by approximately $50,000.

Sale of tobacco and malt, stamps, however, fell far below June purchases, producing only $72,022.08, as compared with $148,592.14 in June. The new tobacco tax which went into operation June 1, was estimated to yield between $90,000 and $100,000 a month, and sales for the two month period average well over the monthly estimate.

State income tax returns also showed a marked falling off, $9,148.15 coming in during July as $32,345.02 the previous month.

The amusement tax failed by approximately $3,500 to produce as much revenue as it did in June.

CLASSY BOUT FOR BENEFIT

Will Take Place This Friday Evening at S. S. C. Gym Benefit Local Catholic Church

Lovers of the manly act of self defense will have a real feast when the Charity Boxing Card will be presented this Friday evening, August 12.

Some of the best boxing talent in this part of the country will take part. Sam Zemurray is, of course, the main attraction. This young Tulane student was the star light heavyweight boxer on Tulane's team, and was in the finals for the collegiate championship. This gave him a place on the teams competing for Olympic honors, but Sam, with his usual modesty, declined the great honor but when the amateur boxers were asked to help the church, Sam was one of the first to offer his services.

He will come into the ring weighing about 180, and we can vouch for his condition, because he has been fighting devil fish weighing 4000 pounds during the summer. We extend our sympathy to his opponent.

Sam Ballard, another Tulane student, will take on George Benedetto, both of these boys are in fine shape. Ballard was a dandy fighter while at Stanislaus but now has had a year under the coach of Tulane, Ted Banks. This bout will show two of the classiest boxers on the Coast.

Edmond Blaize, who carries dynamite in either mitt, will square off with Cameron of the Kiln. Both boys love to fight so the fans can expect plenty of action.

Hugh Ryland and J. Rhody can be expected to put up a fine fight, as both have been in training for some time. Joe Castro has been a life guard during the summer and has not forgotten any of his old tricks. Frank Hobbs has been lifting trucks and cars to keep in condition. "Tuga" Glover is always in shape and will take on any boy weighing in the neighborhood of 148. Leslie Blaize, another of the Blaize fighters, will take on Gonzales or Fagan of Gulfport. The two younger Glover boys, Dave and Joe will be seen in action. Holy Cross College will send in two dandy fighters, Dominga, a brother of K. O. Baer, the professional and Ragusa. Both boys are well known to the fans of New Orleans.

These fighters will train at St. Stanislaus Gym every evening up until the fight which will take place this evening.

This is for the benefit of the church of Our Lady of the Gulf. The prizes have not been advanced even though the card is worth more.

NEW DEPOT AGENT FOR BAY ST. LOUIS ASSUMES POSITION

J. J. Barker, Of Gautier, Miss., Succeeds John A. Green, Veteran Representative.

J. J. Barker, new resident agent for the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company at Bay St. Louis qualified and assumed his new responsibility, Monday, August 1, succeeding John A. Green, who served his company for fifty-five consecutive years and was retired with honor and pay.

Mr. Barker has been stationed at Gautier for the past twenty-three years and is a man of considerable experience in railroad work and comes qualified with both ability and experience. His family will arrive later.

Mr. Green whom Mr. Barker succeeds, has had a long and useful career, serving for over a half century and all through this long period with an unbroken record of working for the same corporation.

High O. E. S. Officers To Visit Bay St. Louis On The Evening Aug. 11

On Thursday evening of next week Bay St. Louis Chapter O. E. S. will entertain all the grand officers of the State on the occasion of their regular meeting and on the eve of the date set for the three-day school of instruction to be held at Biloxi. Included in the number of distinguished visitors coming to Bay St. Louis will be Mrs. Ama Hill, of Jackson, grand matron, and Dr. Irving Pouge of Scott. This will be the first time that a grand patron will attend such event on the Gulf coast and the ladies in charge are noting the extraordinary visit.

Mrs. Lillie K. Leonhard, Bay St. Louis resident, and deputy grand matron of District No. 21, will be hostess to a house party of O. E. S. ladies from Thursday through on Sunday, members of the order attending the school of instruction at Biloxi.

C. Greer Moore Is Speaker Wednesday Before Business Men's Club

C. Greer Moore, well-known Gulf Coast operator and formerly permanent resident of Bay St. Louis, was the guest of Rotary business club Wednesday noon and the main speaker.

Convinced of the expression he said that there was much in store for the Mississippi Gulf Coast and this particular section and that all it required was that courage to go after it. He referred to major development and the general growth of this section. The Coast, he said, is teeming with possibilities, and only awaited the magic hand of doing. Mr. Moore has always contended, and long ere this, that the fellow who said, "it can't be done," has long since died.

Such a talk was inspiring and renewed courage with this group of business men and will rout the drones, putting others to shame. Mr. Moore, a former member of the club, preceded his remarks with the expression that when he lived here the high spot of every week, the one event that he looked forward to every week and the business meeting that gave him the most for his time that of the weekly Rotary luncheon.

Local Resident Loses Father Residing at Plainfield, N. Jersey

Mr. Leo E. Kenney left here Sunday night for Plainfield, N. J., called by a message announcing the critical illness of his father, Andrew E. Kenney, a native of Plainfield, aged 65 years.

Mr. Kenney passed away at 10:30 Sunday morning before his son reached his destination.

The deceased is survived by his widow and two sons, Leo E. Kenney, of Bay St. Louis and Edmund Kenney, of New York City.

A life-long resident of Plainfield, Mr. Kenney was well known and equally well-known in New York City, prominently identified all his life in both cities.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenney visited Bay St. Louis during the winter of 1928-29 when they visited at the home of their son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Leo E. Kenney, North Beach Boulevard, and are remembered most pleasantly. Mr. Kenney's passing away is an occasion for much regret and the family have the sympathy of their many friends in the South and East.

CHURCH BAY FAIR BENEFIT

Saturday and Sunday, August 13 and 14 Dates For Catholic Mid-Summer Benefit.

The summer season with its colony of visitors from New Orleans in particular would seem void without the annual mid-summer fair and festival for benefit Church Our Lady of the Gulf. In fact, it would seem akin to the play of Hamlet with the melancholy Dane omitted.

No dates are more outstanding and of interest, in this circumstance, than Saturday and Sunday of next week, August 13 and 14 and with the organization for this two-day benefit thoroughly organized, with committees and executive chairman, it cannot be otherwise that the benefit is going to be productive.

Last Sunday it was stated from the pulpit that there were many major obligations pressing the attention of the church; that the pastor, Rev. A. J. Gmelch would soon be called upon to make heavy disbursements from the, somewhat scant treasury and that it was imperative the benefit would have to bring manifold returns. The call is always responded to and there is every indication and individual manifestation that this year will by no means prove the exception.

In reply to the inquiry where will the fair and festival be held it is stated here on the lawn front St. Stanislaus college buildings.

Mrs. Sidney Prague, chairlady of the fair, announces a card benefit for Thursday evening of this week, beginning at 8 o'clock, to which the general public is invited.

Paul D. Barnes and Recording Orchestra Here Next Wednesday, Aug. 10

An opportunity will be offered the local and general coast public on Wednesday, next week, August 10, to hear and dance to the strains of Paul D. Barnes famous recording orchestra, under personal direction of Allen Frade. Mr. Chas. A. Breath Sr., owner and manager of Uncle Charles's Nite Club where the orchestra will play, makes the announcement with justifiable pride.

Paul D. Barnes is the South's outstanding saxophonist, it is said, and is composer of "My Josephine," and was until quite recently the leader of King Oliver's Victor Recording Orchestra of New York City and broadcasting from Station KFDM, Beaumont, Texas.

For this special Wednesday night and outstanding feature band there will be no raise in the price of admission, $1.00 per couple, as usual.

Store Keeper Has Marshal To Arrest Unlicensed Peddler

Capitalizing on the enormous business and crowd following the store advertising of the C. B. Mollere I. G. A. Store at Waveland, a farm produce peddler from Pearl River county last week parked his truck in front of the Mollere Store and was selling to the crowds congregated.

Mr. Mollere paying a license to sell similar produce caused the arrest of the stationed peddler in front of his store claiming discrimination. The peddler was tried in the mayor's court and discharged. However, Mr. Mollere had the man re-arrested on the same charge since he continued to interfere with his business and the case will be heard Monday morning before Judge Leon B. Capdepon, of Beat 5, Bay St. Louis. The outcome will be watched with interest.

BEAUTIFUL CHURCH WEDDING LAST SUNDAY

MORNING AT 11:30 O'CLOCK
An interesting and pretty wedding ceremony was that of joining in holy wedlock Miss Clothilde Monti, daughter of Mr. John Monti, to Mr. Henry Lang, both of Bay St. Louis, which happy event took place at the church of Our Lady of the Gulf, Sunday morning at 11:30 o'clock, in the presence of a number of friends and acquaintances. Rev. Father A. J. Gmelch, pastor, performed the tying of the nuptial knot.

The attendants were Miss Evelyn Monti, sister of the bride, and Mr. Pete Strong. The bride looked lovely in a pink hat and accessories to match.

An informal reception followed after which the bridal couple left for a trip of brief duration and will be "at home" in Union street near Hancock street.

Both young people are prominent and popularly known and deserving of a long and happy life.

SIGNS OF BETTER TIMES.

THE late Dwight Morrow is quoted by Roger W. Babson, statistician, in regard to the end of times of depression. Mr. Morrow said: "The turning point in business will come sixty days before most people know anything about it."

Many people are beginning to feel that certain signs indicate decided improvements in our business. These may be premature, but, at least, for the first time in many months, optimistic forecasts are being cautiously put forward by those who have "busted" many times since 1929 in such guesses.

The Babson organization recently points out ten signs of better days. First of these noted are the better prices for certain agricultural products. Hog prices are going up, cattle likewise, and cotton has gone $6.00 higher a bale. Lard, ham, pork, eggs, etc., also show this heartening advance. Mr. Babson points out, that if our farm population only received $10 more per capita for their products this year it would mean $275,000,000 more buying power.

Other signs pointed out are: the collapse of the raid on the American dollar; the nomination of candidates for the presidency who will not injure business and the adjournment of Congress; the improvements in the oil industry, the railroad business, and bond prices; finally, the fact that for some weeks the rate of production throughout the country of many needed commodities has been below the rate of consumption.

LADIES SHOULD VOTE.

EVERY once in a while a good woman will lament that, "politics is so dirty that I do not care to take any part in it."

Yet, if politics is dirty, and it is black enough, how will it ever be made right unless good citizens, especially women, take sufficient interest to help improve the situation?

Whether one likes politics or not, the fact remains that it is the process by which our governments are constituted. The more intelligent and interested the electorate becomes the less chance politicians will have to win by tricks and deceitful practices.

Government is important enough to have in its ranks the best available talent. More than intelligence is needed, because honesty and sincerity of purpose are both essential. Good citizens should use their influence to make the officials of government the best available.

It has been many years since the ballot was conferred upon womanhood. No marked revolution in politics has resulted, but some improvement has come about. Women should be interested in government, because it determines the kind of surroundings their homes will have. To secure good government, women must help select good men for public offices.

In this day the woman who shirks her responsibility as a citizen is by that much neglecting to do her part for the better opportunity for her children.

A POLITICAL YEAR.

THIS is, in every sense, a political year. From the presidency down to local officers the people have the opportunity to select new office-holders.

Voters should be careful. Shrewd politicians will make every effort to mislead them. Facts will be carefully stated in truth, oftentimes, to hide the truth, by using qualifying words.

Every voter should carefully consider every candidate's character. Judge whether he is the type to serve conscientiously and honestly. The first qualification for every office-holder should be character.

Above all things, don't be fooled by promises. Any candidate can make them. Many of them are made each political year and are impossible of being carried out. Many inexperienced candidates make impossible promises without knowing that they can't carry them out.

If a candidate has previously held public office, judge him by his record there. That much of his life, at least, is a public matter. Discussion of a public officer's record is not slinging mud. A candidate should not discuss personalities, but issues, however.

It is up to the voters through the nation to make every campaign a matter of comparing records and hearing vital issues discussed. The voters are the ones to discourage unfair tactics, mud-slinging, and wild promises which can not be kept.

The presidential campaign is normal—both parties are sure of winning.

The loyalty of employees is one of the best assets that a business, large or small can possess.

STIRRING FACTS GLOOM-MONGERS WILL NOT LIKE

BY B. C. FORBES

DOLEFUL news is trotted out morning, noon and night, forenoon and afternoon. Weaklings talk as if the country had never before known depression and never before triumphed over depression. Their ignorance concerning the past matches their despair concerning the future.

THE plain, incontestable truth is that America is infinitely better equipped to rise this time than it ever was before. We are more blessed than in any earlier crisis with every material resource—with capital, with savings, with gold, with banking facilities, with agricultural facilities, with transportation facilities, with manufacturing facilities, with mining facilities, with mercantile facilities, with power resources, with scientific skill, with chemical skill, with mechanical skill, with managerial skill, with trained workers, trained salesmen, trained advertisers.

READ these inspiring facts—and they are facts—presented editorially in Collier's: America's mutual savings bank deposits are $1,233,000,000 higher than they were at the peak of the boom three years ago.

Total bank savings today exceed $29,000,000,000, equal to more than $1,000 for every family in the land.

Savings depositors number 52,000,000, nearly two per family.

The number of Americans owing stock has increased almost 40 per cent since 1929.

A group of 102 companies which had 5,539,036 stockholders at the end of the boom year had 7,675,143 stockholders at the beginning of this year.

One company alone today has over 665,000 stockholders, a gain of more than 195,000 since the boom. This company (American Telephone & Telegraph) has assets exceeding $3,200,000,000.

No other nation on the face of the earth can show such widespread ownership of money and stocks.

Our total stock of gold is $4,000,000,000. No other country ever possessed so much.

A recent offering of $450,000,000 of U. S. treasury securities elicited subscriptions totaling $4,196,296,700—more than nine times the amount offered.

Last year $16,500,000,000 worth of new life insurance was written. Total insurance now carried is estimated at $109,000,000,000, or not far short of $1,000 for every man, woman and child in the United States. Policies in force total 127,800,000.

Such safeguard, such security is enjoyed by the people of no other nation in the world. Our total national wealth, estimated at $329,700,000,000, is greater than that of a dozen Continental European countries combined.

The income of the American people comfortably exceeds $1,000,000,000 a week. The per capita income here is far greater than in any other land.

There are still six or seven persons gainfully employed for every person idle.

Foreigners owe American investors approximately $18,000,000,000. In addition, foreign governments owe our government $7,000,000,000.

We are still selling abroad more than we are buying.

NO FEWER than 25,800,000 automobiles are owned by Americans—almost one for every family. This total is almost three times the number owned by all the rest of the world.

Americans possess far more telephones (19,500,000) than all other countries put together. Radios continue to multiply. The latest authoritative computation puts the total at over 16,545,000.

Fully 3,750,000 new domestic mechanical refrigerators have been bought, at an estimated expenditure approaching $2,000,000,000—most in the last three years.

America has more home owners than any other nation.

The theater of the masses, the movie, still attracts a weekly average attendancet of 75,000,000.

The average working day a generation ago was 10 to 12 hours. The standard now is eight hours, with the trend running toward a still shorter workday. The work-week used to consist of six (even seven) days. Now it is five and one-half days, with the five-day week coming into vogue.

IF ALL of us who are still employed would only look up and buck up, things would quickly pick up. Muzzle gloom-mongers!

Pass Christian's city election has come and gone—including the usual filing of contest proceedings. Happily, these were finally withdrawn and all is happy and serene again over in our sister city-by-the-sea.

CITY CAMPAIGN OPENED.

WITH the formal announcement of Ferdinand H. Egloff, candidate for re-election to the office of city commissioner, which appears elsewhere in this issue of The Sea Coast Echo, the city election campaign is opened and candidates will begin to present their respective claims.

We understand there are quite a number of candidates. However, the public does not know who they are and in more instances than one there is a doubt existing if certain men said to be running are still in the race.

That this is going to be a passive race we have our doubts. On the contrary, it is going to be a most active campaign which is always the price of place in addition to the best and better qualified men winning.

The San Antonio Light registered the heat in that city the other day at 105 and published a picture of the weather man reading the thermometer. Good place to spend the winter.

OH, PROFESSOR!

OUTBERT BLAKISTON, famous educator, spoke his mind the other day concerning contemporary youth and brought down on his head protests from all parts of the British Isles.

The instructor and headmaster of a leading boys' school of England declared the modern lads of Great Britain are "timid, cowardly, untruthful, easily bored, vain and dishonest."

The good professor may know what he is talking about. Youth of today comes in for a good share of adverse criticism, but so do adults, probably the latter deserve more severe verbal castigation.

One of the big troubles of the critics of youth usually has its fountainhead in a poor memory. They forget that they were boys once themselves, or at least have buried recollections of their virtues.

Accurately estimated, we would say that youth of today measures up very well to the youth of 30 or 40 years ago. Above all let us be fair to the boys and girls of today.—Hattiesburg American.

OVER IN LOUISIANA

IT looks as if when the various state and New Orleans departments get their requests over for a loan from the government, there will be little left for the rest of the nation. Abe Shushan was among the first to announce that the Dock Board would like to have $4,000,000, and a few days later Mayor Walmsley wanted to borrow the limit, and Governor Allen is going to make application for a few million. In the meantime the taxpayers can begin figuring the amount of interest they will have to pay.—Bogalusa Enterprise.

TAXES.

"SING a song of taxes." A Meridian Star reader submits the following, under the above named caption:

Tax the farmer, tax his fowl,
Tax the dog and tax his howl,
Tax his pig and tax his squeal,
Tax his boots, run down at heel.
Tax his house and tax his bed,
Tax the bald spot on his head.
Tax his cow and tax his calf,
Tax him if he dares to laugh.
He is but a common man,
So tax the cuss just all you can.
Tax the laborer, but be discreet,
Tax him for walking on the street.
Tax his bread, tax his meat;
Tax his shoes clear off the feet.
Tax his pipe and tax his smoke;
Teach him government is no joke.
Tax the living tax the dead,
Tax the unborn before they're fed.
Tax the water, tax the air,
Tax the sunlight if you dare.
Tax them all and tax them well,
And do your best to make life hell.

All of which seems to represent the all too-prevailing fetich in the realm of politics in state and national government.

Respectfully submitted for candidates for office and politicians now in state and federal officialdom.

THINGS THAT NEVER DIE.

By CHARLES DICKSON.

The pure, the bright, the beautiful,
That stirred our hearts in youth.
The impulses of wordless prayer,
The streams of love and truth,
The longing after something lost,
The spirit's yearning cry,
The striving after better hopes—
These things can never die.
The timid hand stretched forth to aid
A brother in his need;
A kindly word in grief's dark hour
That proves a friend indeed;
The plea for mercy softly breathed,
When justice threatens high;
The sorrow of a contrite heart—
These things never die.
Let nothing pass, for every hand
Must find some work to do.
Lose not a chance to waken love—
Be firm, be just, be true;
So shall a light that cannot fade
Beam on thee from on high,
And angel voices say to thee:
These things can never die.

FAMED CHICAGO GOLD COAST SOON TO BECOME MEMORY

Fortunes Of Aristocrats Swept Away and Mansions Are Replaced by Skyscrapers and Hotels.

CHICAGO.—The Gold Coast is losing its gold.

Chicago's neighborhood of celebrated aristocracy which took its place among the haughty residential districts of the world—may be a rugged range of skyscrapers—and a memory.

The great stone and brick mansions with which the city's pioneer financiers and industrialists studded the beautiful strip, fronting Lake Michigan on the Near North Side, are being evacuated one by one and the architecture effaced.

First business houses and hotels began pushing into the blue stock-in-neighborhood from the South, along the expanding Ghetto populace encroached and from the north real estate organizations accumulated estates and built upon the sites huge houses. These trends have been further accentuated by the current economic stress.

Fortunes of many of the pioneer families—amassed in daring projects that transformed the barren fire swept patch that was the Chicago of 1871, into the humming metropolis of today—were dissipated in the financial collapse of 1929.

Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick—much of her $40,000,000 fortune gone—deserted her house on the Southern edge of the district last week.

The $1,000,000 mansion for years a local sport for brilliant social gatherings, has been mortgaged and "closed."

The imposing home in Bellevue Place of Mrs. Walter Borden, manned by an army of servants and which scintillated with elaborate social affairs for more than a decade, likewise may soon be closed. Mrs. Borden is reported considering taking up an apartment a few blocks away.

The Charles Munro's old brick town house will give way to apartment buildings. Mrs. Richard Crane is reported planning to move from her great old stone mansion.

The Porter Palmer mansion for fifty years a landmark on the "coast" has been sold to Vincent Bendix who plans an office building on the site.

Only about ten of the several hundred noted residences of yesterday remain, and of these several families are awaiting the time when apartment buildings planned for the sites can be financed.

HUEY LONG QUOTES MOSES ON CRUSADE THROUGH ARKANSAS

Waving the Bible and quoting from the law of Moses in attacking the concentration of wealth, Senator Huey P. Long Monday opened his campaign in Arkansas at Eldorado, for renomination of Senator Hattie W. Caraway whom he described to his audiences as "the only representative you've got in the senate who can be depended upon to vote for the rights of the common people."

This was the nearest he came to an attack up Senator Joe T. Robinson of Arkansas whose leadership of senate democrats he assailed in the last congress.

Long assured his audiences both here and at Magnolia where he and Mrs. Caraway started their six-day tour with his sound trucks earlier in the day, that he had not come to Arkansas to attack Robinson.

Mounting the platform of one of his trucks, Long solemnly opened the Bible and quoted scripture which he said was the only guide out of the depression and unemployment, and at the same time assailed the Republican party's methods in dealing with unemployment and farm relief.

"All he's got to do is to read the Bible," he said of President Hoover whom "we hear asking what are we going to do about unemployment."

Mrs. Caraway, making her first speech to a campaign crowd warned to an attack on the Hoover administration which "relieved the railroads and the corporations who are still paying their presidents $135,000 a year salaries."

"What we've been working for and what we want to continue to work for," she said, "is relief for the farmer who is getting no salary at all."

Long here invaded the home town of one of Mrs. Caraway's six opponents—O. L. Bodehammer, past national commander of the American Legion.

The meeting here was transferred to the baseball park from the court square. When the crowd spread over the temporary speaking stand, Long and Mrs. Caraway climbed a ladder to the top of one of the big sound trucks, and spoke under a broiling sun, with the temperature around 100 degrees.

Long described himself and Mrs. Caraway as members of a progressive minority of the senate "fighting the battles of the common people."

"Mrs. Caraway is at the top of the roster," he said, "and you might say she casts the bell cow vote of the senate progressives."

Long said his decision to aid the only woman senator was influenced by "written proof" that "orders have gone out from Wall Street that she has got to be defeated and I'm here to see that some of these pot-bellied politicians of these pot-bellied polinecks."

Over $18,000,000 Life Insurance Is Paid In Mississippi

Life insurance companies paid Mississippi policyholders and beneficiaries $18,000,000 in 1931 according to the special "Life Payments Localized" number issued by The National Underwriter, weekly insurance newspaper. Mississippi ranked 35th in life insurance payments, while it is 23rd in population among all states. If the payments had been divided equally among all people living in Mississippi in 1931 each would have received $9.07.

Jackson led all Mississippi cities in 1931 with $741,000 in life insurance payments, compared to $779,700 the year before. Meridian was next with $494,000 compared to $408,800 in 1930, followed by Vicksburg with $421,000; Midnight $338,400; Merigold, $185,100; Scooba, $184,500; Gulfport, $172,000; Greenville, $151,000; Natchez, $140,000; Greenwood $137,000; Clarksdale, $121,000; Columbus $116,000; Laurel $111,000; Hattiesburg, $101,000; Shaw, $98,000; McComb, $83,000; Poplarville, $81,000; Grenada, $80,000; Tupelo, $78,200.

The largest individual life insurance death payment in Mississippi in 1931 was on the life of Mrs. Grovia A. Watson of Scooba for $134,000. Other large payments were: Jefferson D. Robertson, Jackson, $117,000; George C. Grede, Poplarville, $59,000; Charles Bowen Bix, $117,000; Wm. Holmes Bradley, Clarksdale, $35,000; Albert Sharpard, Gulfport, $34,000; George David Mason, Lumberton, $31,984.

O. S. T. CONSTRUCTION THROUGH HANCOCK COUNTY DETAILED

More than two miles of asphalt pavement has been laid on the 18 1/2 miles of pavement under construction on the Old Spanish Trail beginning in the city limits of Bay St. Louis and extending westward. At present speed it will take more than a month to complete the work, B. C. Batson, Hattiesburg, engineer in charge of construction, stated this week to a press representative who accompanied Mr. Batson and M. W. Willis, Mendenhall, in charge of gravel work, on an inspection visit of the new road.

The present status of the road work may be summarized as follows: All of the road except a distance of less than a mile traveled to a width of 21 feet and work on this final graveling is going forward well; all of the road widened, graded and drained; about three miles yet to be given the prime coat, several bridges built and several culverts remade; and work has begun on the laying of the black top surface.

Drainage Problem

The drainage problem has been quite important in this road work. It has been accomplished by several methods, for example, raising the road bed, digging canals, digging ditches along the roadside, elevating the road at the crown for adequate drainage, replacement of former culverts with more satisfactory types. One stretch of 12-10 miles in distance over Bayou Philip near the city limits of Bay St. Louis, was filled in on a grade from 0 at either end to 2 feet at the center and the only portion of the road not ready to receive the final treatment in construction is a distance of about 400 feet at the center of this fill which is still settling. Bayou Philip was dredged, forming a canal about half a mile north of the highway to a depth of 6 to 8 feet and 25 feet wide at the bottom. Along the roadside numerous ditches have been deepened and in several places, especially near the city limits of Bay St. Louis, auxiliary ditches away from the roadside have been made. Inside Bay St. Louis several old concrete culverts were replaced, the new ones on a level with the roadbed.

There is 1 1/2 miles of pavement inside the city limits of Bay St. Louis which the highway forces are paving along with the slightly over 17 miles in the county. The City of Bay St. Louis has cooperated with the highway department in the work inside the city furnishing the drainage work.

Road Widened.

The roadbed has been made 30 feet in width but only 21 feet has been gravelled and 20 feet surfaced with asphalt, this allowing for a 5-foot shoulder to each side of the blacktop. The gravel has been placed on the roadbed to a depth of 6 inches giving when rolled a compacted gravel base of 4 1/2 inches. The road bed is graded to a 3-inch crown to assist in the drainage. With Bay St. Louis 4 curves have been elevated to one side and 2 others, have been eased and elevated, thus increasing the efficiency of the road appreciably. In the general widening of the road it was only in two places that any trees had to be removed, several shade trees having to be cut near Brown's Vineyard and some pines inside the city limits of Bay St. Louis just west of Main street.

For a distance of 9 miles the road is as straight as a "bee line" and exceedingly attractive. A crescented timber bridge was built adjacent to a bridge already existing on this 9-mile stretch as well as two crescented timber culverts.

on the road bed two 60-ton caterpillar tractors are in use for machining and ditching the road. The gravel workers have laid the prime coat which is of three types, tar, oils or asphalt. All of the priming has been effective except one stretch of about a mile which is now being broken up and replaced with a different prime, the original light oil proving ineffective.

The entire cost of getting ready for the black top on the full 18 miles has been $29,000. Engineer Batson said. This includes raising the road, making the fill, cutting the canal, ditching and all of the gravel, and prime work and materials. The cost of the gravel alone for the road will run from $9,000 to $10,000.

Construction Work

The black top is put on with two applications and with two sizes of crushed gravel, the first coat being combined with gravel about an inch in diameter and the second coat with gravel smaller than an inch. This gravel which is being supplied by contract by the Weston Sand and Gravel Company of Logtown and is being secured from a gravel pit near Logtown. For the first time this company is crushing the gravel and it is due to some difficulty in getting the crusher to operate easily and rapidly that the delivery of gravel has slowed up the paving work. The work on this stretch of the OST is the second time that the state highway department has used this particular type of crushed gravel, the other work having been at Yazoo City from which point the black top crew was transferred to the Coast area. One 7-ton roller is used after the black top is placed and a large distributor sprays the asphalt on the ground. The asphalt is delivered in iron tanks equipped with coils so that a small heater and boiler may be attached to the main car and asphalt heated within the tank, then transferred to the distributor. The cost of this type of asphalt surface varies from $1,500 to $2,000.

An additional problem which is confronting the workers on the OST paving is that of transporting the materials, as gravel is hauled by truck quite a distance and the asphalt by train a long distance and then the actual hauling of the asphalt from the car to the road is a haul of several miles.

The common labor on the road is being done by local men. Heads of the various departments are from the state highway force. B. C. Batson, engineer in charge of construction, is from the Southern district force with headquarters in Hattiesburg. F. B. Davison engineer in charge of the asphalt work, and J. F. Woodfin, also in the asphalt department, are from the central state highway office in Jackson. Other heads of work include: Luther Smith, Hattiesburg, road foreman; M. W. Willis, Mendenhall, gravel, Ames Russ, Logtown, Grady McCordle and J. M. Jones, gravel checkers.

WEXLER READS NEW HOPE IN GLEAM OF BIRTHDAY CANDLES

Mississippi's most solemn birthday party was held Monday at Hinds county jail.

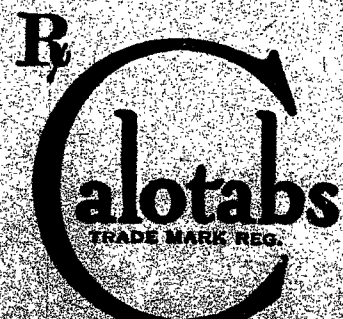

The guest of honor, Paul Wexler, gazed at the tiny flames from 19 candles as he morosely accepted congratulations for a life for which there is no promise beyond next November.

A large birthday cake, frosty with chilling doubt, was generously shared by the only guests, fellow prisoners. The limited rejoicing was based upon the spectacular snatching of Wexler from the shadows of the deathtrap last Friday by an extraordinary court writ, preventing his execution just three days before his birthday.

The somber solitude of the condemned youth was due to orders from Sheriff Estus E. Hudson of Forrest county. The orders forbade Wexler to have any company at all except that of his attorneys. They were understood to be in line with extraordinary precautions to safeguard the youth from any possibility of harm, particularly from citizens of his home town, Hattiesburg.

Friends may have been lacking from the celebration, but there were other compensations. Although only two little birthday packages arrived except for the large cake, the round-faced young man who has twice seen the shadows of night gather on what was to have been his last day on earth spent the day with the knowledge that thousands of Mississippians are wishing for him to escape the noose.

Their only hope is through possibility that a sanity hearing, before Judge W. J. Pack in Forrest county

Which spirits bright must share.

Ah, come to river and to wood,
And rest within their shade;
All things bespeak of love and good,
In Nature's witching glade.

Beloved spot hidden away,
Inviting peace and rest;
Our boys came here to swim and play,
Keeping its mem'ries blest.

Loans to Railroads Are Not Gifts

In the first five months of its operation the Reconstruction Finance Corporation received applications for $378,700,000, authorized for $213,880,000 and actually advanced $146,650,000 in government loans to railroads.

This money is used, in different cases, to pay taxes, interest, payrolls, purchases and maturing indebtedness. These loans are not gifts. They are approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission, are secured by ample collateral and bear interest until repaid.

Such loans are not made to help the railroads or their owners but to prevent national financial disaster. Emergency measures are important, but they are not permanent. There must be restoration of railway earning power. The public can help by making use of railway services and seeing that the railroads get a fair deal.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

HOLLYWOOD HORIZONS

By TODD HUNTER

Hollywood, California, August 3.—Dog racing is the newest sport spasm to hit these parts, several half-million dollar plants having sprung up about the city in the last month or two, with more contemplated, as is the crazy custom. Once an innovation takes hold it is quickly smothered by competition large and small. But for the present it's going places and is giving polo a tough battle for his swank honors. There's this difference between the two—you can't fall off a dog. Picture people are well represented, some owning "stables" of speedsters, others preferring the more passive, and less expensive, part of spectators. Leading stores feature windows displaying the correct costume for both men and women followers of the pastime, but so far no one has bothered about what the Whippets shall wear, which worries me no end.

At a recent tennis party given by Ben Lyon and Bebe Daniels, Ben presented the winners of the matches with cups his Whippets had gathered on the race track. All went well until one of the girls got a cup with these words inscribed upon it: "For the Best Female Whippet in Her Class." What Ben got has not been disclosed.

What would you think if you suddenly saw a pretty, twenty-year old blonde maid standing in the middle of the street calmly holding her clothes bunched aloft in one hand while a couple of photographers busily snapped her from all angles? That's the sight that stopped traffic a day or so ago on Hollywood boulevard. To relieve the tension it's but fair to tell you that only her head was exposed. The rest of her was quite completely covered by what appeared to be a gaily-colored canvas sack affair. You take it with you to the beach or lake, step within its folds, pull the zipper up the side, and change into your swim suit. Even the strictest censor can't object. Pockets on the inside hold your garments. When you're ready for a swim, undo the zipper, spread the sack on the sand, and you have a convenient blanket. It's modestly priced at a dollar or so, and its inventor, a local newspaper staff artist, claims it will pay for itself by allowing the entire family to escape the bath-house tax. The gal was posing merely for advertising purposes, the idea being to show the ease with which one might change clothes in the middle of traffic on a busy street. Another brain-storm by the same artist is an improved surf-board that is finding much favor. A small piece of wood on a hinge attached to the under side of the board near the back drops down as you ride the waves, catches the force of the breakers like a fin and boosts board and rider along at a thirty-mile clip.

Roscoe Ates established a new high for excited stu-stu-stu-stu-stu yesterday at the dog races when he found himself holding a couple of winning tickets.

John Waldron, Mack Sennett's right hand man-ager, has a precocious son, Bobbie, who has reached the mature age of five. This young fellow and his mother were enjoying a trip through the family album and came to a picture of his father taken twenty-five years ago.

"Who's that nice-looking man?" Bobbie wanted to know.

"Why, that's your father," his mother replied.

"Yeah, well, then, who's this bald-headed man that's living with us now?"

now?" Bobbie questioned.

Lilyan Tashman and her husband, Edmund Lowe, have a beach cottage at Malibu done entirely in two colors, red and white. Even the dishes follow this scheme, and when you go there for a dip you are supposed to wear a red and white bathing suit.

It's interesting and lots of fun to watch the number of people who walk along the street talking to themselves. For some reason, this quaint habit has been vested with the garment of feeble-mindedness yet fully half those noticed during a recent watch-the-people-walk - along - the street session were engaging in these silent monologues. Expressions such as "he went away talking to himself," and "I said to myself," indicate that it's a common habit, but if the person at whom you are looking happens to catch your amused grin, he or she invariably blushes self-consciously and hurries out of sight. Yes, sir, I certainly do blush.

Hollywood Hodge-podge: A swell Hollywood beauty salon where many of the Stars get prettied up has over its portals the words, "Swim, Bathe and Cry in Comfort." . . . Clara Bow must drop five more pounds before she appears again on the screen. . . . The beautiful Thelma Todd has—she let me spell it—added a few extra ounces. . . . The "West Side Riding and Asthma Club" is the name of the latest get-together. . . . Ann Harding has been pinched twice in the last two weeks for speeding. Even as you and I . . . Edgar Rice Burroughs, Tarzan's papa, used to flatfoot it on the Salt Lake police force. . . . Tcha, Tcha. Clark Gable has defied precedent by purchasing and living in a seven-room (is that all?) house in Benedict canyon behind Beverly Hills. No swimming pool, not even a tennis court (I wouldn't have it). Gable says he wanted a home, not a showcase. . . . Douglas Fairbanks and his son, young Doug, both like to sing, but neither Mary Pickford nor Joan Crawford appreciates their efforts, so not long ago they hiked far back in the hills just to get a couple of songs off their chests. They're probably back home by this time. . . . More than 30,000 people jammed Hollywood boulevard in front of Grauman's Chinese theatre to watch the opening last week of "Strange Interlude." Not to get tickets' just to see the Stars in full dress parade. . . . Wally Beery is on the advisory board of one of the Hollywood banks. It's at the corner of the Boulevard and Highland. His name heads the list. John Gilbert's antique shop on the northwest corner of the Boulevard and Hudson looked very quiet the other day as I passed by. . . . Food prices are way down, plenty of restaurants serving a complete five-course lunch or dinner for twenty-five cents, something they've never done before. . . . And the waiters and waitresses no longer act snooty when they get a dime tip. They knock off for the day. . . . Note to females: Flannel trousers are very popular with jacket combinations and swim suit tops. . . . Al Jolson has to learn twenty new songs in four different languages for his forthcoming picture, "The New Yorker."

Innocence At The Wheel

He was giving his fiancée a driving lesson in his new car. As they came to an awkward corner, he said, "I think you had better change gear here, dear."

"What?" she replied, "Already?"

"Surely the old one hasn't worn out so soon?"—Boston Transcript.

CLERMONT HARBOR

—Mr. Frank Chalona, with his friends Mr. Dell Landry and Randolph Huberwald, are motoring to Los Angeles to attend the Olympic games.

—Miss Virginia Kepper, of New Orleans, is visiting Miss Joy Chalona at Clermont Harbor; they attend the same school in New Orleans.

—Mrs. Lawrence A. Molony entertained a foursome at contract bridge and lunch Tuesday at Clermont Harbor. Her guests included Mrs. Francis Dunn of Los Angeles, California, Mrs. Joseph Farbacher of New Orleans, Mrs. Fernand Gondolph of New Orleans and Pass Christian.

—Mrs. Joseph Chalona had a foursome of bridge Monday at her summer home on the beach at Clermont Harbor. Her guests were Mrs. August Tete of New Orleans, who also owns a lovely home in Clermont and spends the summers there; Mrs. Bill Pond of Colon, Panama, Miss Bessie Pond of New Orleans.

—Miss Joy Chalona was hostess Wednesday at a luncheon and swimming party in honor of her house guest Miss Virginia Kepper and also for Miss Marion Nix and her guest, Miss Anita Rose Treffney of Chicago. They enjoyed the water sports off the new pier at Clermont Harbor.

—Miss Marion Nix, charming young daughter of Mrs. Louise Nix, who is the eldest of five sisters, entertained at three tables of bridge Thursday at the family summer home in Waveland, in honor of Miss Anita R. Treffney of Chicago, who has been visiting her for the past month, and who returns home shortly, much to the regret of her many friends here.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. Demare and family are summering in Clermont Harbor, having rented the Kern cottage.

—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Holmes and family have rented the Cerise Cottage in Clermont Harbor.

—Mr. and Mrs. George J. Muller, sons and daughter, accompanied by Mrs. John L. Bernos, have leased one of the cozy and attractive cottages in Clermont Harbor for the balance of the season.

—Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Sherman and accomplished daughters, Misses Audrey, Honorine and Maxine, have leased one of the smaller but attractive cottages for the balance of the summer. They motored out from New Orleans Monday.

VICTIM OF BULLET BROUGHT HOME: BURIAL WEDNESDAY

Member of Well-Known Bay
St. Louis Colored Family
Laid Away With Church Ceremony.

Richard Sylvest, native of Bay St. Louis, aged 33 years, unmarried, died at a hospital in New Orleans at 2:30 o'clock, Wednesday morning, as the result of a bullet wound received from an unknown assailant.

Remains were conveyed to Bay St. Louis on the noon train and taken to the residence of the mother of the deceased St. George street, who survives him in addition to one sister and two brothers, Herman and Leroy Sylvest, all of this city.

Funeral took place the same afternoon at 4 o'clock with ceremony at the church of St. Rose, Nicaise avenue. Father John, pastor, officiating. Interment was at Cedar Rest cemetery, in the family burial plot.

Richard Sylvest had been a resident of New Orleans for the past twelve years where he was employed.

KISSING THE COW.

My wife delights in Aeschylus,
I read the sporting page.
She thrills at tales of ancient Troy
And joyous Juno's rage.

I little heed the Grecian gods
And Jove's clandestine loves.
I much prefer a rattly Ford
To Venus and her doves.

Those tragedies of olden days,
Sublime, of Sophocles,
The songs of Sappho and the wit
Of Aristophanes,

The wanderings of Ulysses,
The deep Platonic lore;
A thousand other things like these
Of stately days of yore.

My wife with crudition vast
Devours by the ton.
My mind is of a simpler cast
And finds its loads of fun.

In reading what Will Rogers says,
And on the radio,
In laughing at old Andy's cracks
And Amos' overflow.

I get more kick from Dempsey's punch
Than feats of Hercules,
And Pepper Martin's stealing trick
Is finer far than these.

The noblest status of the Greeks,
Their proudest paintings, too,
Philosophies of all the schools
To me are all taboo.

I'd rather see the Follies show
And flirt with chorus girls.
There's more red blood in this, I know,
Than kissing Cupid's curls.

My wife possesses all the taste
That classic critics praise.
Of course, I guess I am disgraced,
But I'm for primrose ways.

Blue Mountain, Miss.

COMMENT ON SPORTS @ SHERIDAN

Equipoise Beaten

French For Germans
Yankees Lead Pack
Pirates Going Strong
Schaff's Poor Form
The Olympic Opens.

"Equipoise" failed to win his eighth straight race when he was beaten by Plucky Play in the Arlington Handicap. Carrying a back-breaking load of 134 pounds, 23 pounds more than the winner, the four-year-old thoroughbred failed to overtake the Church entry by a head. Incidentally, Equipoise carried the heaviest impost any horse has packed this year. After the race, it was intimated that he would not be required to assume such a burden in future races.

Babe Dedrickson, who recently won a track and field meet against the pick of the nation, placing in ten events and winning six to run up 30 points, is also reported to be a good tennis player. She is a fine swimmer and a brilliant basketball player. Altogether, she can place in 15 different track and field events and is high-class in six other competitive sports. Grantland Rice, veteran sport writer, says, "There may be some male athlete who can match this record but I have never heard the name," and predicts that she will be one of the sensations at the Olympic games.

Rogers Hornsby, manager of the Cubs, has decided to try out against the lively ball the old method of using four straight pitchers to carry the burden for the club. Most of the great teams of the year back won championships with four or five pitchers and then in 1914 Bill James, Dick Rudolph and George Tyler pitched the Braves to a world's title. Personally, we have never seen the need of eight or ten pitchers but anyone will admit that the introduction of the lively ball has made it harder for the hurlers.

Because Bill Carr, Penn star, has twice taken the measure of Ben Eastman in the 400-meter event, it seems that America has lost the possible chance of winning the 800-meter Olympic event. "Big Ben," an almost certain to win the 800-meter event, chose to fight it out with Carr in the 400-meter contest and both will represent this country in that event.

Jackie (Kid) Berg, British lightweight, won a fifteen-round decision from "Kid" Chocolate, Cuban negro, and the crowd booed the decision. The Briton, after taking beatings from Tony Canzoneri, Sammy Fuller and Bill Petrolle, got back into the top of his class by an endless forward attack. A majority of ringside critics thought that the Cuban had won, however.

With 8,000 French spectators showing decided pro-German sympathies, the American Davis Cup team managed to win its way into the challenge round by the close score of 3-2. The American victory was made possible by Ellsworth Vine's winning his two singles matches. Frank Shields lost both of his contests. In the doubles match, Allison and Vines were the victors. The Germans, Baron von Cramm and Daniel Prenn, number one German ace were defeated but nothing like disgraced. Von Cramm was considered the real hero of the matches, playing in a quiet, unspectacular way, but nevertheless exhibiting one of the prettiest games in modern tennis. Vines and Shields were considered somewhat off-form but the German players amazed Paris by the battle they gave the American stars.

In the American League, the New York Yankees continue to maintain a commanding lead, with less than forty games to play, seem sure to win the pennant. Cleveland and Philadelphia are in a nip and tuck battle for second place, with either team being a long shot to put on a winning streak to forge to the front.

In the National League, Pittsburgh continues to play outstanding ball, demonstrating convincingly that the Pirates have arrived. Their foremost contenders are within striking distance, however, and the race is not yet over. The indications are that the Pirates will take one end of the World Series money.

Reviewing the last month's play, one finds that practically no change occurred in the standing of the National League teams. In the American League, the clubs are about in the same condition that they were when July opened, with the exception of Cleveland and Detroit. The Indians have moved up from fifth place and the Tigers have dropped from second. There is little reason to expect greater change in August.

Ernie Schaff's poor showing in his recent contest with Poreba, Gross and Uzcudun has caused a drop in the prestige of the Boston fighter. Certainly, he has not been giving the same performances that defeated

Stribling, Loughran, Griffith, Baer and Maloney and various reasons are assigned. One is that Ernie, managed by Jack Sharkey and Buckley, is disgruntled because he thinks that they have held him back in order that the Boston Gob might get the lucrative matches. Ernie modestly admits believing that he can beat Sharkey, but, of course, a fight between them is out of the question until his management contract expires next year. He might just as well get busy and do his best now in order to reap financial reward later.

With 2,000 athletes on hand, the pick of forty nations, the curtain lifted Saturday on what is expected to be the greatest of all Olympic shows. While the United States has good runners for the 100, 200 and 400 meter matches and our experts believe that Metcalfe, Tolan, Simpson, Carr and Eastman will come through to win, foreign experts give up only a fair chance at the 100 and 400 meter whirls. In any event, long distance events are generally awarded the Finns, regardless of Nurmi and his disqualification.

Sports that compose the Olympic Games and the number of nations in each follow:

Athletics (track and field), 35; boxing 18; cycling, 15; equestrian events, 9; fencing, 18; field hockey, 3; gymnastics, 8; modern pentathlon, 12; rowing, 16; shooting, 14; swimming, 21; weightlifting 11; wrestling, 18; yachting, 11.

In addition, there will be the fine arts competition and demonstrations in lacrosse and American football.

Primo Canera came back from Europe to score a technical knockout over Jack Gross, of Philadelphia. The referee stopped the fight in the seventh round. "Kid" McCoy former boxer, has been released from San Quentin on parole after serving seven years of a 20-year sentence. His release was made possible by the promise of a job, offered him by a former boxer whom McCoy had helped in the old days. . . . Ten days before the opening day of the Olympic Games, advance ticket sales passed the 1,300,000 mark, exceeding all attendance records of modern games. However, there will be plenty of room, as the daily capacity of the various stadia is approximately 400,000 and the championship contests spread over a 16-day period. . . . Jimmy Fox stands an excellent chance of surpassing Babe Ruth's home-run record of 60, made in 1927. With 44 games left on the Athletic's schedule, Jimmy had 38 homers in his credit and was approximately one month ahead of the Babe's performance.

Pacific Coast Conference teams have decided to continue broadcasting football games through 1932. . . . Ernie Schaff's recently defeated Paulino Uzcudun on points in their 15-round bout. . . . Mickey Walker knocked out Salvatore Ruggiello in the first round of a scheduled 10-round bout. . . . Steve Hamas defeated Lee Ramarge at Los Angeles, reversing the verdict when they met last spring.

CLAYTON RAND PAINTS COLORFUL PICTURE OF SAN 'FRISCO CHINATOWN

Coast Publisher Says To Keen Observer Chinese Community Offers a Vivid Study of Humanity—Something Of Climate and Long Beach, California.

By CLAYTON RAND
San Francisco

Last night we were driven to Chinatown in a fleet of Yellow Cabs. Noted for their excellent repasts, the Far East and the Moon cafes divided honors in serving our group with a delicious Chinese dinner.

At eight-thirty our tour of Chinatown began. Grant Avenue, the very heart of Chinatown, presents an exotic appearance at night. A narrow street piercing the largest Chinese quarter in the world, outside of China, the avenue is lined with queer Oriental shops, temples, bazaars, sidewalk stands, and strange, silent buildings with pagoda-like roofs. Women attired in gorgeous silks and satins passed us on the street, and men in black alpaca shuffled along their slippers making soft sounds on the pavement.

We paused before the windows of many of these tiny shops. Behind the glasses were beautiful works of art, in gold and jade. Beads, chains, carved charms—all vied for honors in a jumbled setting of richness. Inside another shop we saw foodstuffs—shark's fins, candied ginger, and other delicacies that delight the palate of the Chinaman.

We visited the Joss Home, on Pine Street, maintained by the Kong Chow Society. Here we saw the images of some of China's heroes, as well as the ever-peaceful Buddha. A Joss House is literally a House of God, and this was one of the beautiful temples in Chinatown.

Double Education.

Chinese children receive two educations at the same time. Supplementing the regular American school program is the instruction in arts and Chinese history and culture received at one of the six Chinese evening language schools. We visited the Nam Kue Academy, a picturesque place modeled after a temple at Peking.

Remarkable Memory.

We saw the only Chinese telephone exchange in America, on Washington Street. Clever Chinese girls operate this exchange, and commit to memory more than 2400 subscriber's names. A Chinaman seldom calls another by the designated number—he merely asks for "Ching Lee," and the operator must connect him with his party.

On Stockton Street we visited the famous "Six Companies" the Rome of all Chinese institutions in America. Originally organized for the protection of Chinese abroad, it is now a clearing house for all social, educational, and benevolent affairs—a mother organization to which all others are willing subordinates. The Chinese Y. M. C. A. is another of the cultural centers in this teeming region. It has a membership of more than 600. Students from China on their way to American universities find this the ideal stopping place in San Francisco.

Chinese Theaters.

We visited two Chinese theaters—the Great China and the Mandarin. There are no bonafide Chinese theaters outside of China that equal these two playhouses. Much is left to one's imagination in a Chinese theater, as a great deal of the acting is in pantomime, with scarcely any change of scenery. If one understands the gestures he can readily follow the story. For instance, a person entering a room opens and closes an imaginary door; when going upstairs the actor goes through the motions of lifting up one foot, then another. Setting anything on fire is indicated by throwing a red rag, tied to a stick.

Vivid Study of Humanity.

To the keen observer, the Chinese community offers a vivid study of humanity, handiwork, and a blending of the East and West. The people and their customs are interesting—from the little sidewalk curo vender to the Chinese "flapper," dressed in Chinese blouse and American wrap; Chinese pantaloons and American shoes.

LONG BEACH

For today I find only enough time, and perhaps the space, to give you a bird's eye view of Long Beach. It is a city of 150,000, twenty-two miles from Los Angeles and is on the Pacific. Los Angeles, as you may know, is little inland and was built around the missions established by the pioneering Fathers.

Long Beach has just finished a $3,000,000 auditorium that seats nearly 5,000 people. The project includes an 8-acre marine park and a 32-acre still-water lagoon, and a 3800-foot "Rainbow" pleasure pier, open to both pedestrian and automobile traffic. The famous show place, almost completed, adjoins a $10,000,000 amusement zone. The estimated crowd in bathing today was 150,000 and as one surveyed them from the rainbow pier the eight-mile sweep of the beach in a riot of colored suits and umbrellas looked like a transplanted Atlantic City or Coney Island.

From the peak of Signal Hill, with its 1200 oil wells one surveyed the city, and the Pacific with its Battle Fleet lying at anchor in the distance. The fleet has a complement of 18,000 men and officers, and brings to the city a monthly pay roll of $1,000,000. We were aken to the fleet's anchorage in motor launches and on the California I met boys from Louisiana and Mississippi.

Along with Signal Hill's productive oil field the city has a few wells all its own out of which it has taken millions for the tax payers. With curtailed production the city enjoys a revenue of only $500,000 a year.

So it is easy to understand the affluence of such a community, but oil was only discovered in 1926 and Long Beach had her stride before that happened.

Dizzy with ideas I could write here a timely conclusion but we are ready for another experience in a land of wealth, money—but perhaps a poor conscience.

I have asked everybody I have seen since I left home about the forthcoming election—it is an interesting experience. I may wait until the last minute to sum up these reactions—I shall be able to tell them how far the preachers and bootleggers are going to influence the election.

Climate.

We cannot cover in these contributions anything like a complete story. It has been a revelation. The climate is what they say it is. San Francisco is always cool, and even here at Los Angeles which is nearly 500 miles south of Frisco, they have had no summer. It was not until today that I dared to put on linen and leave my overcoat behind. Fogs from the sea keep the country cool and it, like our lovely Coast, is a clean country. It rains here only between October and March. They have had no rain since the first week of April. It is strange that they can decorate a city like this one is decorated for the Olympics and know that rains will not mess up the banners and punting.

I have seen many decorated cities but never have I seen such a picture as Los Angeles presents in preparation for the Olympics, beginning on July 30. Thousands of people are already here for the preliminaries and the Coast has gone athletic with a vengeance. And the Coast could do that easily. They have gone for sports in the open air with a spirit—the country lends itself easily to such a development. A rarified climate and the call for woods, sea and stream must be irresistible—one feels a new spring in his step and an appetite for anything digestible. There is so much room and such a variety of scene and climate. It is difficult to grasp the sweep of California's

Ghost House At Long Beach To Be Replaced With New

The "mystery or ghost" house on the beach at Long Beach just west of Long avenue, owned for many years by the Fabacher family of New Orleans, a landmark on the Coast, is being demolished to make way for a new bungalow that Lawrence Fabacher, present owner of the ground, will erect there at once. Buddie Field is the contractor for removing the old structure and erecting the new house which he expects to have finished within five weeks.

This old house which was occupied some 25 years ago through the summers by the brothers of the present owner, now deceased, has stood vacant for many years and has been a favorite place for the perpetuation of "new ghost" stories especially by the younger generation. It is recalled that as a "lark" a group of school children several years ago spent a night at the mystery house and reported "haunts."

This part of the beach is highly desirable residential section which has been little developed for a distance of several miles and the new house will be a desirable addition to the area.

THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

(For The Sea Coast Echo)

Salad is the spice of the meal. Jellied or frozen salad adapt themselves to any dinner or supper. No other dish affords as good an opportunity to get into our meal the uncooked foods so necessary to a well balanced meal.

Lime Mold

- 1 package lime gelatin.
- 1 cup grapefruit sections.
- 4 slices pineapple.
- 2 cups boiling water
- 1 cup orange sections.
- 12 maraschino cherries.

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Allow to partially set. Cut each slice of pineapple in four pieces. Cut cherries in halves, pour small portion of gelatin into mold which has been rinsed in cold water. Place one-half cherry round side up in mold. Arrange sections of orange, grapefruit, pineapple and cherry in a design. Cover with layer of gelatin. Repeat until mold is filled. Unmold on lettuce. Garnish with clusters of balls cut from canned peaches and cylinders of watermelon.

Head Lettuce Salad

- 1 can pimientos chopped fine,
  - 1 cup chopped nuts.
  - Mayonnaise
  - Head lettuce.
- Remove all large or loose leaves from the head of lettuce. Cut the firm heart in quarters and serve with the dressing to which has been added the pimientos and nuts.

Frozen Fruit Salad

- 1 orange
  - 1 banana
  - 3-4 cup Royal Anne cherries
  - 1 slice pineapple
  - 1 cup fruit salad dressing
  - 1 cup cream
  - 12 maraschino cherries
- Free orange from all skin and rind. Cut pineapple fine and halve the cherries. Seed cherries. Chill fruit. Whip cream and combine salad dressing with cream. Combine fruits and banana sliced thin. Add fruit to cream and salad dressing. Freeze. Serve on crisp lettuce.

Fruit Salad Dressing

- 2 egg yolks
  - 2 tablespoons sugar
  - Juice of 2 lemons
  - 1 tablespoon flour
  - ½ cup maple syrup
  - ½ cup cream
- Mix syrup, flour and sugar and cook in double boiler for ten minutes. Add lemon juice and beaten egg yolks slowly and cook for five minutes, stirring constantly. Re-mountains and valleys. It is 1,000 miles from her northern to her southern boundary—the distance from Gulfport to Chicago.

WITH THE MOVIES AND FILM FOLKS

(For The Sea Coast Echo)

Cecil B. DeMille thinks the "ethereal" type of woman is the most lasting in the movies and plans to use Elissa Landi, borrowed from Fox, as "Mercia," a Christian virgin who remains steadfast though surrounded by wickedness of pagan Rome. He says that Mary Pickford was the first "ethereal" actress and that of present stars, Norma Shearer, Janet Gaynor, Ann Harding and Helen Hayes are the type which he defines as combining "physical allure with a certain quality of spirituality." Mary Pickford is expected to make two pictures during the present year. . . . Pearl Buck's novel, "Good Earth" will probably be filmed in China, with Chinese artists playing the roles of Wong and his wife. . . . George Bancroft, who has constantly given him, has started his career as an independent. Bancroft says that only the star making good pictures will survive and that he can now pick and choose his own vehicles.

Dorothy Mackaye, who went to prison after her husband, Ray Raymond died from a blow, supposed to have been administered by Paul Kelley, has written a scenario, "Women in Prison," telling of her experiences in San Quentin. First National has the story and Barbara Stanwyck will probably have the lead. . . . Edward Everett Horton, comedian, has come back to the movies to play a part in Ernest Lubitsch's "Honest Finder." . . . Director Frank Borzage is looking for "legs with a blonde temperament" and says that the winning pair will have a chance to act an entire sequence of scenes. At no time will the face of the owner be shown, regardless of how beautiful she may be. . . . Jackie Cooper plays phonograph records to key up his emotions. His favorite crying record is "Little Grey Home in the West" and his cheerful record is "Pied Piper of Hamelin."

Frozen Cheese Salad

- I cream cheese
  - ½ cup cream
  - ½ pimento cut in strips
  - 8 green olives chopped
- Work the cream into the cheese with a fork. When smooth add olives and pimentoes. Freeze. Serve on crisp lettuce with mayonnaise.

"Daddy Won't Let Me Fall"

THE faith that a child places in its parent goes no deeper than the confidence our clientele places in us.

To give the keeping of one's MONEY to another calls for a trust probably second only to the sacred relation existing between parent and child.

And, be it said in all humility, we are ever conscious of our responsibility.

Pictures Taught "Tallulah"
Right Way To Rehearse.

"Motion pictures have taught me how to rehearse." In such startling manner Tallulah Bankhead recently described her film career following eight years of stage stardom.

"Talking pictures are all rehearsals to the stage player," she explained while at work in "Thunder Below" at the Paramount studios in Hollywood.

"As a stage actress, I was a poor rehearser. I could never get into the spirit of the thing with an empty house before me. But once behind bright footlights and facing an audience, I always found myself. Then I could time action and lines. "In motion pictures, one arises at 6:30 a. m. and spends the entire day rehearsing. The same scene is played over and over until actors and director are satisfied.

"Now I have learned to make a 'situation' my audience. I still rehearse poorly when I know the cameras aren't grinding away. But when 'camera' is called, an imaginary audience forms itself.

"I have had to get a new perspective all over again in entering motion pictures. I have been forced to learn the film technique just as silent players had to learn the technique of talking pictures."

"Thunder Below," with Miss Bankhead in the leading feminine role and Charles Bickford, Paul Lukas, Eugene Pallette and Ralph Forbes featuring, comes to the A. & G. Theatre Sunday and Monday.

PLANT WINTER LEGUMES FOR SOIL IMPROVEMENT

By R. H. BRYSON
(County Agent)

Because of the sandy formation of the soils of Hancock county, a large percent of the original plant food stored therein by Mother Nature has been leached away by the heavy rains, and unless rebuilt through the use of soil improvement crops in the form of humus or organic matter, the soil eventually becomes too poor for agricultural purposes.

One of the biggest handicaps to successful farming in this county is poor soils. Poor soil produces small crop yields of poor quality products which usually sell at low prices. On the other hand, rich or productive soil produces good yields of high quality products which naturally commands best attention on the markets and at better prices.

It is easily possible for every farmer to greatly increase the productivity of his soil by following a simple program of growing legume plants and plowing the entire crop under. Legume crops are those which have nodules on the roots and have the ability to gather nitrogen from the air and when the crop is plowed under, releases the nitrogen to the soil for use by succeeding crops. The legumes are divided into two groups; namely, Summer and winter varieties.

Summer legumes are, cowpeas, lespedeza, soy beans and others. Winter growing legumes are, clovers, Austrian Peas, Vetches, and others. The Austrian Pea and Hairy Vetch have proven the most satisfactory of the winter growing group for this section, and under average weather conditions when planted or properly prepared ground will increase succeeding crop yields 25 per cent to 100 per cent.

Scientists tell us that the air over each acre of land or water contains 70,000 lbs. or 35 tons of nitrogen, and from tests made the Austrian Peas and Vetch gather about as high percent of nitrogen as any other crop, and the expense of planting is small compared with their fertilizing value.

Vetch should be planted at the rate of 20 to 25 pounds of seed per acre, and Austrian Peas at 30 to 35 pounds per acre. The seed of these crops must be inoculated before planted.

These legumes must have phosphate. On land without a heavy residue of phosphate from previous applications, apply at least 200 lbs. of acid phosphate per acre at seeding time. Contact with acid phosphate will kill inoculation, so it should be applied ahead of planting, and seed sown separately.

These crops should be planted Sept. 15th to Oct. 15th.

Further information regarding these crops may be had upon application to this office.

Arthur V. Smith Of Pascagoula Has Close Escape in Auto

An automobile driven by Arthur Smith went off the south side of the east end bridge of the West Pascagoula river and landed bottom side up in several feet of water, but Mr. Smith escaped serious injury, being slightly cut and bruised. He was en route home from the American Legion convention at Biloxi.

Arthur V. Smith is no stranger to the Coast, newspaper man at Pascagoula and former representative from Jackson county. He is a brother of Stone Smith of Bay St. Louis and also of Mrs. H. U. Canty formerly of this city but now of New Orleans. His escape from death is well nigh miraculous. He was badly shaken up as a result.

Wolf River Resident Dies At Gulfport Hospital Tuesday A. M.

Joseph Saucier, 71, years old, died at the King's Daughters Hospital at Gulfport, Tuesday last week, at 10:30 o'clock. He was born in Mississippi and had lived many years in the Wolf River settlement north of Pineville. Surviving him are the wife, a son, Victor Saucier and three daughters. Funeral services were held at the home. Rev. Father C. M. Hager officiating. Burial was in the Cuevas cemetery.

STORK VISITS CALIFORNIA.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Anderson, who reside at Sacramento, California, received a visit from the stork on Wednesday of last week when their second child came to take up permanent abode within the sunshine of their hearts and home.

Mrs. Anderson, before her marriage was Miss Cleo Osinach, of Bay St. Louis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Osinach, of this city, who left recently to be with Mr. and Mrs. Anderson and to welcome the new arrival. The newcomer is of the fair sex and both mother and child reported as doing exceptionally well.

—Mr. George Toca is assisting at the B. J. Ladner Store while Miss Dora Necaise is away on a vacation.

—Mrs. M. E. Baddon, who is on a ten-day visit to her parents and other relatives at McComb, plans to return home Sunday.

—Mrs. H. F. Mattox, recently from Atlanta, who is visiting relatives and friends here, plans an early departure for Los Angeles, California.

—Letters from Sacramento, California, tell of the safe arrival there and pleasant journey from Bay St. Louis of Mr. and Mrs. John Osinach, who took this trip by bus line, crossing the desert wilderness and escaping the sun's heat by traveling at night. They will remain until some time this winter, returning home by Cincinnati and Memphis.

—Motorists to New Orleans over the newly surfaced Old Spanish Trail route, have no difficulty in making the trip in one and one-half hours, and with no inconvenience or apprehension. Some cover the distance in longer time and some in less, but the latter is not recommended neither is it expedient to attempt to do so.

—The Pleasure power yacht of William S. Penick, while on a cruise along the Gulf Coast last week-end spent Sunday in Bay St. Louis waters, south of the railroad bridge, the large vessel with its attractive lines attracting the attention of many. Mr. and Mrs. Penick had a party of young people from New Orleans on board.

—Rev. Father A. J. Gmelch, pastor of local Catholic church, returned home last Saturday afternoon from Chicago and other points, after taking his annual vacation of two weeks. His trip and period of recreation has added to his health and he returned home filled with the benefits that can only accrue from the vacation which every worker requires.

—Mr. and Mrs. B. Spotorno and six children, who were severely injured when their automobile struck loose gravel eight miles this side of Hattiesburg last week, are doing well at their home in Bay St. Louis, and plan to be able to return to their home in Memphis, Tenn., next week, their car repaired. The story of their accident and subsequent injury was told in these columns last week.

—R. F. McIntosh local plant man for the Bell Telephone Company has returned from the King's Daughters Hospital at Gulfport and is up and out again after undergoing an operation for acute appendicitis. His friends will be pleased to learn that he has fully recovered after a siege of several weeks. Mr. McIntosh spent the past ten days at his home in Carre Court.

—Many from Bay St. Louis will attend the annual church fair for St. Claire at Waveland, this Saturday and Sunday evening, August 6 and 7. Mrs. Edward C. Carrere and many ladies are working without stint for the success of the benefit. Mr. E. C. Carrere is general chairman. It is planned to put the fair over as one of the biggest and most successful yet.

—Mrs. M. V. Gex, mother of Messrs. W. J. Gex and E. J. Gex, Mrs. R. L. Genin and Miss Vickie Gex, on Saturday last celebrated her eightieth birthday in the bosom of her excellent family of children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Mrs. Gex received many congratulatory messages and remembrances on the occasion of so happy and auspicious occasions. May she long live and enjoy the love and esteem of those nearest and dearest to her and others as well.

—While coming home at 3:30 A. M., Sunday morning from an official call, Deputy Sheriff Horace L. Kergosien made an unexpected arrest, that of a young colored man carrying chickens he was charged with stealing. The alleged offender is perhaps better known to many as "Monk" rather than his own name if we were to print it. The poultry was of the Rhode Island variety and choice. In return for his release "Monk" offered the chickens. He was promptly arrested with the popular charge made against him next day.

—Rev. Father R. J. Kirschenheuter, C. M., St. Thomas Seminary, Denver, Colorado, left Wednesday morning for New Orleans en route to his duties in the West completing his annual month's visit to his sisters, Mrs. J. H. Thompson, of New Orleans and Mrs. L. S. Elliott, residing in Union Street. Father Kirschenheuter officiated at mass on Sunday, at the church of Our Lady of the Gulf, and also delivered his annual address to the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, as well as an address before the National Catholic Council of Women at Long Beach. He is not only scholarly and a man of rare attainment, but a regular fellow, beloved wherever known. His return next summer will be anticipated.
